As an intern in the livestock program, you will work and live on our 7,000 acre property in central Panama. Our main goals for the spring semester are to build a hen house and chicken run as well as a loafing shed for horses. In addition to building these structures, we will be purchasing our first livestock! We hope to have chickens, cattle, horses and goats living on the property by the end of the spring semester.

Skills Required:

- Must be able to work independently and cohesively with a group
- Must have a great work ethic and positive attitude (we will be working outside in extreme weather conditions, so a good outlook is crucial)
- Bilingual in Spanish and English (this is not a requirement, but it is extremely beneficial)
- Self-starter with willingness to work hard and have fun!
